- Panel discussion

Online learning

The distance education services we offer follow the principles of the Experiential Learning approach and may take various forms. They are offered as an autonomous learning proposal (Distance Learning: Synchronous or Asynchronous). Alternatively, they can be an experience before or after classroom training, as part of a blended learning proposal.

Extraordinary training experience. If you are tired of seminars that do not leave any beneficial imprint, then it is time to meet us.

Our story

At Game Tree we want to offer an extraordinary training experience. We want you to feel safe when you choose us as your partner in the learning and development process of your people. We want you to feel calm and happy when you think of our company. And inspired to release your “superpowers”.

Why Game Tree?

‘Game’ because games are one of the learning techniques in which we believe a lot. ‘Tree’ because we have a strong trunk and flexible branches, which offer hospitality, shelter and oxygen to those who seek meaningful learning experiences with a positive impact.
